

Team Advisor Form

The Team Advisors will be shifting around between several of the teams to provide input on the various teams' respective projects during the working sessions. The input provided by the Team Advisors is expected to blend their professional experience on design and team projects for the empowerment of the students' competition experience. Guidance provided from the Team Advisors that have experience working with various other consultants and professions would be instrumental in accomplishing the main goal of "unlocking a dialogue between future city-building industry leaders".
